PricewaterhouseCoopers Oy is owned by its shareholders under its employment, i.e., Equity Partners. The rights and responsibilities of the partners are determined on the basis of the Limited Liability Companies Act, the Articles of Association and the partnership agreement. In general meetings, the partners exercise the highest decision-making power as referred to in the Limited Liability Companies Act and the Articles of Association.

In addition to Equity Partners, there are Associated Partners. The rights and responsibilities of Associated Partners are determined on the basis of the partnership agreement. In shareholders’ and partners’ meetings, Associated Partners and Equity Partners participate in decision-making concerning issues referred to in the partnership agreement.

At the end of the financial year, there were a total of 75 partners in the company, of whom 43 were Equity Partners and 32 Associated Partners.

Partners’ committee
The task of the partners’ committee is the preparation of issues relating to the hiring of partners, partnership policy and structure for the Board of Directors. The partners’ committee is formed by the chairman of the Board of Directors, the CEO, the chairman of the nomination committee and two members of the Board of Directors elected from among themselves for a term of two years who represent the partners as extensively as possible. The chairman of the Board of Directors of the company acts as the chairman of the partners’ committee. The members of the partners’ committee are not separately elected, excluding the member elected by the Board of Directors from among themselves; serving on the partners’ committee is considered part of the larger job description in the tasks mentioned.

During the closed financial year, members of the partners’ committee were Pekka Loikkanen (chairman), Mikko Nieminen, Juha Laitinen, Matias Lindholm and Ylva Eriksson.

Nomination committee
It is the task of the nomination committee to prepare a proposal for the AGM on the number and identity of candidates for the Board of Directors, and the identities of the chairman and any vice chairmen. The nomination committee also prepares the election of the TSP for the partners’ meeting.

The partners’ meeting elects four partners to the nomination committee; of these, one is the chairman and one the vice chairman. The chairman or members of the Board of Directors or the CEO cannot be members of the nomination committee. The term of office of the members of the nomination committee lasts from one partners’ meeting to the next held in connection with the AGM, unless decided otherwise.

During the closed financial year, members of the nomination committee were Matias Lindholm (chairman), Kai Wist (vice chairman), Heikki Lassila and Hannu Pellinen.

Basis for remuneration of partners
A reward scheme approved by the partners’ meeting is adhered to in the remuneration of partners, and its basic principles are similar throughout the entire PwC network. The partners’ committee decides on any changes to the reward scheme, and major changes are brought before the Board of Directors and the partners’ meeting for approval.

The partners’ committee decides on the remuneration of partners. The Board of Directors decides on the remuneration of the partners’ committee. The partners are divided into different classes according to experience, skills and roles, and the reward scheme pays attention to the attainment of personal objectives set for each year, conformity to values, the partner’s role in the organisation and the financial result of the company.

The reward scheme pays attention to the attainment of personal objectives set for each year, conformity to values, the partner’s role in the organisation and the financial result of the company.
Our company’s values – teamwork, excellence and leadership – support the objective of a high level of quality in all our client work. In addition to observing good technical quality and regulations, quality also refers to our way of working with our clients: our ability to put ourselves in our clients’ shoes and exceed their expectations. In internal training and other events, we constantly emphasise the meaning of high quality. We also conduct client satisfaction surveys on a regular basis.

Firms across the PwC network use standardised operating principles and procedures on quality and the supply of services. It is the task of the company’s Risk & Quality Partner, together with the Risk & Quality partners and managers of the business areas, to maintain the principles and systems relating to risk management and to monitor compliance with them. We conduct a self-assessment on compliance with the operating principles each year.

The Risk & Quality Partner reports to the Territory Leadership Team of our company and the CEO (TSP).

We follow a quality control review programme of the PwC network in order to ensure that our operating principles and ways of conduct are appropriate, efficient and complied with. We observe the International Standard on Quality Control (ISQC) 1, the purpose of which is to guarantee with reasonable certainty that we conduct our auditing and other assurance engagements in a manner regulated by professional standards, regulations and legislation. The standard on quality control also requires a review process. In our company, this has been entrusted to the partner assigned to this duty, i.e. the Chief Quality Officer (CQO). The review process aims to provide reasonable certainty that our operating principles and procedures relating to the quality control system are appropriate, function effectively and are adhered to.

The PwC network conducts a Quality Management Review in our company at regular intervals, reviewing the appropriateness of our operating principles and procedures, and the method of execution of our engagements.

It is the task of our Quality Office function to ensure that the auditing and other assurance engagements are dealt with maintaining high quality and the appropriate procedures and that they are conducted effectively. The chairman of the Quality Office is the partner responsible for methodology and its members include the director of the auditing business area, the CQO, and the partners responsible for independence and risk management within the auditing business area, quality control reviews and internal training.

The personnel of our company and outside parties have the opportunity to disclose, in confidence, any detected or suspected misconducts from the professional standards and legislation concerning our company through the PwC network’s website.

Our principles heighten the importance of consultation in difficult professional questions or those that require interpretation. Our assigned experienced experts are responsible for consultation.

Our company and the accountants approved according to the Auditing Act in our service are subjected to external quality control as referred to in the Auditing Act at intervals of at least six years.

Dates of the most recent quality control reviews
The PwC network conducted a Quality Management Review (QMR) in our company in spring 2015, and evaluated the appropriateness of our operating principles and procedures. The observations were reported to the Territory Leadership Team and Board of Directors in August 2015.

The Auditing Board (TILA) of the Central Chamber of Commerce last conducted a control visit to our company in autumn 2013.

PricewaterhouseCoopers Oy is also registered with the PCAOB (Public Company Accounting Oversight Board with the US accounting industry), which conducted a quality control check at our company in autumn 2013.

The website of PwC Finland contains a separate up-to-date list on the publicly traded companies and credit and insurance institutions in which an APA firm or an accountant employed by it has been chosen as an accountant.

Independence policies and description of monitoring compliance
We adhere to the global independence policies and procedures of the PwC network, which include the minimum requirements related to independence and which are applied to all the assurance engagements conducted by us. The independence policies and procedures are based on the code of ethics of the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA) and Securities and Exchange Commission’s (SEC) independence rules with regard to SEC companies, and comply with the requirements of the Auditing Act. However, our policies regarding our auditing clients are more restrictive than those of the IESBA in certain respects. We maintain knowledge of our personnel on issues of independence by internal news releases and training.

We follow a careful approval procedure of new clients and engagements. We have a centralised database of independence entities of the PwC network at our disposal. By “independence entity” we refer to an auditing client which is significant from the point of view of public interest or which has foreign subsidiaries, or a client for which we provide other recurring assurance services and which is listed or which has foreign subsidiaries. The use of a centralised database enables the making of independence reviews regarding new clients and engagements. It is our policy to ensure, prior to the approval of new clients and engagements, that no conflicts of interest are involved in the engagements that might endanger the independence of our company as an auditor.

It is our practice that the partner responsible for an auditing client approves services other than auditing services provided to the same client. This ensures that our independence and objectivity remain intact with regard to the services provided to our clients. With regard to independence entities, this prior approval is taken care of by using the authorisation system adopted by all the firms in the PwC network.

We adhere to the rotation requirements set for the terms of accountants in the Finnish Auditing Act and the ethical code of conduct of IESBA. We monitor compliance with these principles with regard to publicly traded companies and credit and insurance institutions through real-time updates to a centralised database tool and through supervision measures conducted once a year.

We request a confirmation of compliance with the operating principles from all our employees on an annual basis. In this conjunction, our experts also provide a confirmation of compliance with our independence rules. Our new employees also provide a confirmation of compliance with our rules when starting work... with us. All partners, together with directors and managers acting as experts in client work, as well as employees of our internal service centre, maintain information on the ownership of securities in a portfolio system, which compares them to the database containing all the independence entities in the PwC network and points out potential problems.

We also monitor compliance with independence policies and procedures by carrying out spot checks on our individual experts each year. Potential breaches of the independence rules are reported to the Territory Leadership Team and Board of Directors of our company and to clients. The disciplinary principles and sanction policies of our company are applied to any detected breaches of the independence rules.

Continuous development of competence
PwC is a professional service organisation where success is based on knowledgeable and skilled personnel. PwC Professional, our competence leadership model, is part of PwC’s leadership model, in which one purpose is to support and set a framework for the extensive professional development of all PwC personnel. A particular focus area during this financial year has been the reinforcement of a feedback culture which supports development.

Training is based on goals derived from the strategy and the needs detected in client work. The training range of the global PwC network, combined with training tailored to PwC Finland’s own local needs, offers opportunities for both in-depth specialisation and the comprehensive accumulation of skills. Training is divided into expert training, the development of client relationship management and interaction skills, and training focusing on PwC’s practices, culture and values, and it is unit-, business area- and engagement-specific. In particular, training related to changes in legislation, standards and regulations, and the assurance of our operational quality is organised continuously. This is supported by continuous communications related to changes in regulation and other development, as well as the databases used. Some training is mandatory based on the role, whereas some training is based on individual development goals.
